1 Introduction

Many campus students that come to campus use various means of transport, so its so a necessity to at least get to know the various means used.

1.1 Background

In all the years, there isnt any known source that takes time to research about the transport means used yet it is of good value to know how students get to campus. with the increase technological development, also transport is ad versed, thus a lot of means for reaching the respective universities.

1.2 Problem statement

How to minimize the cost of transport to students coming to universities?

1.3 Aims/objectives

1.3.1 Main objective

To provide students with one mean of transport with a uniform price that is affordable to the students.

1.3.2 Specific objectives

- To reduce on the accidents that students experience due to the reckless drivers.
- To enable students reach campus in time so they dont miss their lectures in case of slow drivers.
- To increase the safety of students since the driver and conductor that is assigned to drive students to campus is known and trusted.

1.4 Research scope

The research covers universities in Uganda but especially the public universities, to be more precise for the start, it will cover makerere university.

1.5 Research significance

With all the difficulties that students go through, it is necessary for them to get some help with minimizing the costs of transport incurred.

2 Research methodology

The methods that I have used mainly is to use the questionnaires that I created using ODK aggregate and created a form that I installed on my form using the ODK build.
